SANITARY DISTRICT CONSOLIDATION OF NILES, UNION ASKED

Signatures of more than 55 per cent of property owners in the Union Sanitary District have been placed on petitions for consolidation of the Union District with the Niles Sanitary District, according to George Coit, president of the Union District. Announcement to this effect was made at the board's regular monthly meeting in Newark Wednesday evening.

At their November meetings, the Union board and the Niles board will arrange for a joint meeting, at which the county Board of Supervisors will be asked to authorize consolidation of the two adjoining districts.

LIGHTEN TAX LOAD

The consolidation move, which has been under way for more than a year, became necessary when it was ordered by the state that all sanitary districts bordering on San Francisco Bay construct sewage disposal plants and cease emptying raw sewage into the bay.

The Niles district has always used the Union district's outfall to the bay. Consolidation will eliminate the necessity of two disposal plants being constructed and will lighten the tax load on all property owners in both districts. Coit states that plans for the disposal plant are complete.

Consolidation is expected to be effective in February of next year, after which a bond election will be called to raise funds for the sewage plant construction.

The assessed vaiuation of the combined districts will approximate $7,000,000.

DISTRICTS CONTIGUOUS

The Niles district has been awaiting consolidation for more than a year. In 1947 an area between the Niles and Union districts was annexed to Niles in order that the two districts would be contiguous so that they could be annexed. Property owners in the Niles district signed petitions early last year asking for consolidation.

Directors for the two districts are. Union: George Coit, Sam Scott, George Emerson, M. J. Bernardo and Chester Gunn; Niles: E. E. Dias, Jack Alberg, H. L. Scott, Tom Elliott and George Burr.

ALL THEIR GAMES ARE 'AT HOME'

Frank Mayer, manager of the Irvington baseball team, likes to schedule games with teams that will promise a return game on the local diamond, but in the case of Sunday's opponents such an arrangement is utterly impossible.

Oh, the players would love to make the trip, the finances for transportation could most certainly be worked out, the Irvington diamond is available but there is that little matter of "over the fence is out."

You see, when the umpire calls "batter up" at 11 a.m. Sunday the Irvington laddies will be inside the walls of San Quentin prison playing a team whose scope of travel is little more than the baselines.

Manager Mayer will be assured of at least one thing during the game, however, uniformed guards will be on hand to make sure that none of his opponents steals "home."

GAMBLERS PAY $1800 IN FINES

Fines of $300 each or 60 days in jail were assessed against six men in Centerville Justice Court last Friday by Judge Allen G. Norris after a jury had found all six guilty of violation of the gambling laws.

The men are Felix Diangson, Leo Yip, Jung Wong, Woo Yin Don, Kow Wong and Ng Wing Him. They were arrested by sheriff's deputies in a raid on the Lomita Club in Alvarado on August 19.

Lester Foley, Hayward attorney who represented the men, withdrew his motion for a new trial and waived the right of appeal.

Two of the men arrested were also charged with illegal possession of firearms. Hong Yip entered a plea of guilty and was fined $100 or 30 days. Marty Yip, with Foley acting as his counsel, entered a plea of not guilty and demanded a trial by jury. Judge Norris set the date for the trial for November 17.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO BE FORMED HERE

A Washington Township Historical Society, for the purpose of compiling township historical data and to ultimately establish a museum here for housing township relics, is in the process of being formed, according to an announcement at this week's Country Club meeting. The Country Club has offered to help organize the Society and to lend its club house for the meetings, although the Society itself will not be affiliated with the Country Club.

This announcement will be greeted with jubilation by many residents of the township who have long been aware of the need of preserving not only important historical township data and papers but some of the relics that are here in comparative abundance.

The first meeting will be held at the Country Club house on Tuesday, October 25, at 8 o'clock.

Especialty urged to attend are descendants of old pioneer families, although every interested person in the township is welcome.

EVENING SCHOOL SETS NEW RECORD

Enrollment in the Washington Evening School reached record-breaking figures this week with several classes yet to be started, according to Warren Gravestock, principal.

Gravestock stated that to date 356 persons are enrolled in the free evening school classes, more than double the number enrolled at this date last year.

He announced that it has become necessary for Mrs. Mary E. Machado to conduct her sewing classes each night of the week to accommodate the large number of students enrolled.

BURGLARS ENTER POST OFFICE AT NEWARK, GET $5

Burglars broke into the Newark post office building late Monday night or early Tuesday morning but their loot was limited to small change from the stamp drawers, which amounted to less than $5.

Sheriff's Detective Joseph J. Sheehan said the burglars apparently gained entry by smashing a door window, then opening the door with a key left in the lock on the inside.

The small change was taken from a wooden cabinet, but according to Sheehan no "serious" effort was made to open the office safe. Mrs. Julia Harris, postmaster, did not reveal the exact amount of money contained in the safe but added that it was "not too much."

The burglary was discovered shortly before 8 a.m. Tuesday by John D. Silva, substitute mail carrier, who notified the sheriff's substation in Hayward.

United States postal authorities have been called into the investigation.

Three years ago this month the Newark post office was burglarized and approximately $6,000 in cash, money orders and stamps taken.

PUPIL INSURANCE FOR HIGH SCHOOL

The Board of Trustees of Washington Union High School, at their meeting Tuesday evening, voted into effect an insurance plan which would benefit all students of the school.

The Pupil Protection Insurance is provided by the California Interscholastic Federation Protection Fund to provide hospital, medical and dental service to pupils injured "while in or on buildings and other premises of the district during the time such pupils are required to be there or thereon by reason of their attendance upon a regular school day or while being transported by the district to and from the school."

Under the new system the parents or guardian of an injured student would pay the first $3.00 and the insurance would cover the remainder of the expense up to a maximum of $125 for hospitalization, $125 for medical attention and $60 for dental attention.

The rate of insurance is $1.00 per year per pupil based on the average daily attendance.

HOSTESS CLASS NEXT MONDAY

There are times that any hostess —no matter how adept—is at a loss for a new menu, a new recipe, or a new decorating scheme. "What can I do—or serve—that is different?" is the age-old cry.

Mrs. Gladys Cronkite Giles of Irvington, a former home economics commentator with NBC, has the answer to these—and to many other—questions for the weary hostess.

Her class in home entertaining will start next Monday, October 10, in the faculty dining room of the high school at 7 o'clock, and will last until 9, meeting every Monday thereafter.

Registrations for this class are open to any interested person in the township. It is sponsored by the evening school program at the high school, and offers a complete program for entertaining and the art of being a hostess.

NEWARK WILL HAVE CUB PACK SOON

Parents of cub-age boys of Newark have been invited to meet at the Youth Center building on October 14 at 8 o'clock to reorganize a cub pack in that community.

The Rev. Peffers, representing the Newark Presbyterian Church, which is sponsoring the pack, is extending an invitation to all families of cub-age boys. All denominations will be included in the pack.

NEWARK DAIRY COW HAS QUADRUPLETS

Fame passed by Washington Township very closely last Saturday.

It happens only once in a million times that a cow gives birth to four calves—but it happened at the Borghi dairy at Newark.

The calves, however, born three weeks prematurely, all were dead. They were bulls and weighed about 50 pounds each. "Shorty," their mother, is recovering nicely, according to Frank Borghi.

DECOTO CHAMBER, P.T.A. ENDORSES HEALTH SURVEY

The Decoto Chamber of Commerce and the Decoto Parent-Teacher Association, at a joint meeting held Tuesday evening at the fire station,, voted to take steps to make their community a healthier place in which to live.

Dr. A. B. Kogan, assistant health officer in Alameda County, addressed the group on the benefits of a community-wide campaign for x-rays and blood tests.

CONTACT ALL FAMILIES

Members of both organizations have volunteered to contact every resident of the community asking them to take advantage of the free service and application forms are being circulated house-to-house this week. All persons over 15 years of age are being asked to take the tests.

The x-ray truck will be in front of the post office on Thursday afternoon, October 27, and all day October 28 and 29. The evening of October 27 it will be in front of the Decoto Theater.

The Chamber, in reply to letters to four major oil companies, were assured that Decoto is listed on all of their maps of this section.

NAME DELEGATES

A letter from the Alameda County Board of Supervisors advised the Chamber that crews will begin the task of repairing certain streets of the town on November 3.

Secretary Bernie Joseph read a letter from Rev. J. McCall, granting the Boy Scouts permission to repair the church and use it as a meeting place.

President Kenneth Garcia, Secretary Joseph and Manuel Seaone were named to represent the Chamber at the township-wide Associated Chamber meeting at Centerville on October 19.

Manuel Hidalgo was authorized to buy ornaments for decorating the trees on the Borghi and Faletti properties during the Christmas season.

BROKEN POWER LINE CAUSES GRASS FIRE

The Irvington Fire Department was summoned Tuesday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire along P. G. & E. Road between Irvington and Newark.

The blaze resulted from a short in a power line which burned through a wooden pole and let the hot wires fall to the ground, igniting the dead grass.

INSTALL PASTOR AT ST. EDWARD'S CHURCH IN NEWARK

Father James J. Concannon was installed as pastor of St. Edward's Church in Newark Sunday at the 10 a.m. mass by Monsignor Richard O'Donnell, pastor of St. Francis DeSales Church in Oakland.

The appointment of Father Concannon was announced, effective September 26, by Archbishop John J. Mitty, filling the vacancy created by the death of the former pastor, the Rev. James J. MacLaughlin.

Father Concannon was graduated from St. Patrick's Seminary, Palo Alto with the class of 1930 and since that time has been stationed at parishes in San Francisco, Oakland, Fairfax and came here from Holy Angels parish in Colma.

His mother, Mrs. James Concannon, resides in Albany, California.

REV. KIRKBRIDE RESIGNS TO GO TO WASHINGTON

It is with considerable regret that the trustees of the Niles Congregational Church are called upon once more to select a pastor; for the Rev. Donald Kirkbride announced this week that he is resigning to take a post with the Congregational Church at Winslow, Washington, on Bainbridge Island.

Mr. Kirkbride has been in Niles for two and a half years. It was in the local church that he was ordained, and where he also was married.

The appointment as pastor of the Winslow Church is considered quite an advancement for the young Niles preacher, as the town is the center of a population of 7500 people.

The trustees have not named a successor to take Mr. Kirkbride's place. He will preach his last sermon here on October 30, and will leave with his wife for Winslow on November 1.

MEN'S CLUB HEARS U. C. PROFESSOR

Dr. Fredd Stripp Jr., lecturer in speech at the University of California, was guest speaker at last night's meeting of the Washington Township Men's Club held at the International Kitchen. Dr. Stripp spoke on the subject, "Contemporary Version of Lincoln at Gettysburg."

Nominations will be presented at the December meeting to fill the offices of president, secretary and treasurer.

'Day Per Dollar' Sentences On Guilty Pleas in Check Fraud; 27 Trials Pending

Seven Niles and Decoto men were given jail sentences ranging from 25 to 100 days last Friday in Hayward Justice Court following their pleas of guilty to violation of the California Unemployment Insurance Act.

Judge Jacob Harder sentenced the men to serve in the county jail in proportion to the amount of money illegally received from the state, at the rate of one day for each dolla..

PROBATION DENIED

Officials of the Department of Unemployment termed the sentences a "preventative measure" and said they considered them "fair for the offense committed."

Judge Harder denied one plea for probation, made by Calisto Xavier of Niles. Xavier claimed he used the money to aid a sick daughter in Portland, Oregon, and asked probation to be with her and her children since she has been brought to this area.

The other six men from this area and three from Hayward and San Leandro, who had previously pled guilty to the charges, made no plea for probation and made no statements in their own behalf.

Those now serving out their sentences and the number of days they must serve are: Domino Torres, Decoto, 25 days; Manuel Torro, Decoto, 100 days; David Muela, Decoto, 25 days; Lawrence Roderick, Decoto, 25 days; John F. Sullivan, Decoto, 75 days; Theodore Briones, Niles, 75 days, and Calisto Xavier, Niles, 50 days.

Judge Harder Wednesday scheduled 27 individual jury trials to run from October 10 to November 23 after the other defendants entered pleas of inocence through their attorney, Edward R. Plotner of Oakland, to identical charges of fraud.

Plotner asked that the trials be consolidated to avoid undue burden upon the county and state, but the request was denied by Judge Harder after Deputy District Attorney Richard Lynch declared that the alleged violations were for different periods and had no connection.

The Niles steel workers are all charged with unemployment insurance chiseling. Patrick J. Cronin, area supervisor of investigations for the State Department of Employment, has accused the men of getting on unemployment rolls during a layoff last spring at the Pacific States Steel Mill at Niles and continuing to collect benefit checks after returning to work.

Scheduled to face trial on the charges are: William H. Angelberg, Louis Campa, Ed Gilbert, Fidel Gonzales, Joe H. Guttierras, Jack Martinez, Jesus M. Vera, Ruben J. Vizcarra, Jesus M. Rodrigues, Oscar L. Rodrigues, Fred J. Sandoval, Albert D. Smith, Francisco Valdez, Pedro Alejandres, Hector M. Gonzales, Jobie Griffin, Rafael Guerra, J. P. Inman, Abel Jiminez, James T. Landrum, Bernard A. Lobato, Saturino R. Lopez, Bonifecio G. Martinez, Jose Ojeda, Joaquin T. Pineda and Thomas W. Pugmire.

ALLEGED PUNCHBOARD DISTRIBUTOR ARRESTED

Sheriff's deputies yesterday arrested a San Francisco man in Decoto and have charged him with two counts of conducting a lottery.

The man, David Donald Armos, is alleged by the officers to be a punchboard salesman and he was arrested after the appearance of many such boards in Decoto business houses.

He is free under $500 bond and is expected to appear in court in Niles today for arraignment.

MARINERS CLUB MEETS

SEARS & HOUSTON WILL OPEN STORE IN CENTERVILLE

Sears & Houston, a firm name familiar to residents of the township over a Newark store for the past five years, will be placed over a Centerville business house on October 15, marking the opening of a second store in the township for these enterprising merchants.

The announcement was made this week by Wesley Sears, Harry Houston and Fenton Sears, owners and operators of the Newark business house.

ON MAIN STREET

The new Centerville store will be located in the building on Main Street adjacent to the Bank of America, formerly occupied by Norb's Sport Shop.

Wes Sears, who will operate the new store with the assistance of Jerry Ferreira of Centerville, stated this week that he will carry a full line of radios, television sets, gift lines, housewares, toys, small appliances, glassware, greeting cards and sporting goods. The store will also feature a hobby shop.

Sears first entered business in 1946, opening a small hardware and hobby shop at 2160 Thornton Avenue, under the name of Wes and Wanda's. He was soon joined by Harry Houston, his brother-in-law, as a partner and in November of that year they moved into their present spacious quarters at 2082 Thornton Avenue.

ADD NEW LINE

In 1947 his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Sears, moved here from Washington and joined the firm. This spring the company took over the store building adjacent to their building and expanded their line of dry goods and ready-to-wear.

BUILDING PERMITS SHOW INCREASE

Building permits issued during September by the Alameda County Building Inspection Department totaled 343 units with a valuation of $1,678,150.

BULL IS CLEARED OF MURDER CHARGE

* * * * * * * * *

COURT RULES DECOTO ANGUS NOT GUILTY

Nine X, a prize Angus bull owned by Zwissig Brothers' Dairy of Decoto, was cleared of the alleged murder of his neighboring herd chief, Barbarian of Hillcrest 13, by Judge O. D. Hamlin in Alameda County Superior Court Wednesday.

LIKES NEIGHBOR'S BOVINES

Mel MacLaren of San Leandro, neighbor-rancher of the Zwissigs, valued his bull Barbarian at $50,000 in his damage suit. He maintained that Nine X took a fancy to the 25 cows that Barbarian was superintending in June, 1948, leaped the fence adjoining the two herds and fatally injured his blue-blooded neighbor.

The bully Zwissig bull, maintained the plaintiff, knocked Barbarian down with a blow that fractured his skull and then administered a blow to the solar plexus that ruptured the heart of the four-year-old Barbarian.

Carl Zwissig, and other bull experts, took the witness chair and declared that the supposition was impossbile. Bulls will fight, they conceded, and will even strike when their opponent is down. But, they won't kill—at least kill other bulls.

The defense went on with their argument that there was no autopsy performed on the deceased —the entire case was based on circumstantial evidence — and, Barbarian might just as well have died of fright or disease.

Judge Hamlin, after listening to all the bull stories, agreed with the defense, and Nine X is today roaming his domain on the Zwissig Ranch, saved from a possible conversion into hamburger had the case gone against him.

THE YOUNGER SET

—Stinhilver Photo

Gregory Powell Lee just escaped being born on Abraham Lincoln's birthday, which is all right with his father, Jack Lee, who is one of the "southern" Lees!

Gregory was born on February 11, 1947. He has rather a distinguished background, being a great, great, great grandson of William Henry Harrison, as well as having two ancestors who signed the Declaration of Independence, and several ancestors who came over on the Mayflower.

In spite of all this impressive background, Gregory leads the life of any normal little boy. In fact, his father, who teaches the seventh grade at the Decoto School, says he'd rather cope with his 46 children in school than with his ONE child at home!

Gregory's two loves are his Irish setter, Kelly, and his alley kitten, Ginger. He also is very fond of singing the Cal rooting song, and playing kiddie records on the phonograph.

MOTHERS CLUB MEETS

The Mothers' Club of the Mission Grammar School met on Thursday evening in the auditorium of the school to begin a new year full of plans for many improvements. President Mrs. Marie Baptist presided and Mr. Click, principal, spoke to the mothers concerning the need of report card changes.

At the annual election, the following officers were named: Wini Fernandez, president; Fern Overacker, vice-president; Lois Bottenberg, secretary, and Mary Rodrigues re-elected treasurer. The group voted to continue the evening meetings in preference to the day meetings. Projects for the year include a whist party to be held October 14 at the school at 8 p.m. It was also learned that the school was in dire need of 35 new metal chairs so a campaign for contributions is now underway. The club has also voted to continue financial assistance with the daily milk for the pupils. Mrs. Florence Thompson gave a number of highlights of the organization of a Cub Pack here and many of the mothers favored the forming of a Pack. All were urged to attend a meeting at the Irvington Recreation Hall on October 10 to see pictures and hear more details about organizing a unit.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF EMPLOYMENT

FARM LABOR INFORMATION

By L. R. BRADLEY
Manager Hayward Office

Employment in California's seasonal farm operations is again increasing after a decline following the peak of the raisin grape harvest. Wine and table grapes, tomatoes, almonds, walnuts, prunes and other fall crops are active and cotton picking has started. Labor surpluses still exist in some parts of the state, especially in the San Joaquin Valley, while other areas are experiencing some difficulty in finding workers. This situation is caused primarily by workers leaving areas where the harvests are continuing for the cotton harvest where there is a surplus labor supply awaiting work.

Migratory workers are urged to help finish the tomato, grape and fruit and nut harvests before going to the cotton areas where peak activity is not expected to develop until mid-October.

In the coast counties from San Luis Obispo north, tomato, walnut, wine grape, late apple, lettuce, sugar beet and miscellaneous vegetable operations are active. Although farm jobs have fallen off in these counties and there are surpluses of workers available in most areas, migration to other parts of the state has resulted in labor stringencies in some sections.

Monterey County still needs 300 carrot tiers. Either single men of families can be used with family groups preferred and they need not be experienced. The pay is now 24 cents per field crate of three dozen bunches. An additional 200 tomato pickers will also be needed to complete the Monterey County harvest and the lettuce and other crops which are currently active will need workers outside the county as they reach peak.

The Santa Cruz County apple harvest is at its peak and 200 workers are now needed in the Watsonville and Aptos areas. Picking is very good in both sections and workers' earnings are reported to be higher than usual.

Orders for workers are now on hand in the Aptos Trailer Office of the State Farm Labor Service on Highway No. 1 in Aptos and at 21 West Lake Street in Watsonville.

Santa Clara County needs single men experienced in vegetable operations to live in and work out of a growers' camp throughout the fall and winter months. Workers should call at the Farm Labor office, 734 South First Street in San Jose concerning these jobs.

In other areas, the labor supply is generally in balance with the supply, although some out-of-the-area workers may be needed in many sections as current activities reach their peaks.

Thinking Things Over . . .

By VIVIAN BATMAN

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

One of our readers who saw the picture of The Township Register office in the paper last week was curious about the two people in the window.

"It looks like a woman sitting on a man's lap," she said. "Was it you?"

NO! It wasn't!

If I wanted to sit on a man's lap, it would not be in the front window of an office building on Main Street.

It wasn't anybody—not really. It was just a poster, an army poster, showing a soldier signing up a civilian going into the service.

Disappointed?

GRAB BAG LUNCHES

My younger son came home from school one day last week complaining about his sandwiches. This struck me as rather odd, as I had fixed his favorite sandwich—deviled egg.

"But I didn't have deviled egg," he exclaimed. "It was old stale bread with dried up meat on it."

After pursuing this mystery, and putting him through the third degree, I learned that the youngsters have a sort of "grab bag" method of selecting their lunches. Half the time they get lunches not their own!

To think of all the effort I make to fix nutritional and well balanced lunches, and I don't even know what child I'm doing all this for!

All I can do is ask this mother who fixes the stale bread sandwiches to try and slip in an occasional deviled-egg sandwich now and then. It will sort of even things up.

Another little old lady coming into the office wanting someone with "an understanding heart" to take her classified ad. . . . She has an idea there. . . . There is a lot of drama, poignancy, and human interest in many classifieds.

C. W. "Chuck" Kraft getting his speech to the Country Club women off to a good start by telling a story (not the kind they tell at men's club meetings), which sent the women into peals of laughter, which only goes to prove that a story doesn't have to be risque to be appreciated. . . .

Old Mr. George Barker coming in to the office to inquire about the food sale to be held here Saturday. . . . Said his check didn't come until the 13th, but he is going to be here anyhow . . . just to LOOK at all the cakes and pies.

The still of a drowsy afternoon being broken at the Niles Library by Miss Elaine (better known as Ann) Howe rehearsing her story for the story-telling hour on Saturdays. . . . Of course this does not go on while there are "customers" in the library. . . .

They cut cards to see who got the best piece of steak. . . . They cut cards to see who got to sleep inside the tent. . . . A wonderful idea, this "cutting the cards" deal. . . . Why don't housewives try it in their families? . . . Leave it to men to find the easy way of doing things. . . .

Guests at New Home

Mrs. Al Cadero entertained the members of her pinochle club last Thursday at her new home on Orchard Drive, in the Ellsworth Orchard tract of Niles.

The first daily newspaper in the United States was established in 1784.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

TURN A FAMILY MEAL INTO COMPANY FARE

by the HOMEMAKING SPECIALISTS of the General Electric Consumers Institute

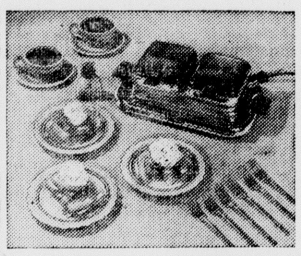
When your husband brings home a surprise guest for dinner, a crisis can be avoided if you know how to convert the planned family meal into company fare. You can do the trick handsomely with an elegant soup or unusual hot bread, an Epicurean sauce for the vegetables, or a fancy dessert.



Here are a few suggestions from the General Electric Consumers Institute. They're easy to prepare, because the ingredients are usually left on hand, and there isn't much extra work involved anyway. Yet they're sure to work wonders with the meal you've planned.

For instance, try this delicious soup made by combining two canned soups and adding a few extra ingredients.

Company Soup

Tested by the G-E Consumers Institute

1 can mushroom soup
1 can chicken rice soup
2-3 slices toasted bread
⅓ cup heavy cream
1 tsp. horseradish
Paprika

Combine soups and add water according to instructions on cans. Heat to serving temperature. Pour into serving dishes. Cut 1½ to 2-inch rounds from toasted bread. Place on each serving. Whip cream stiff; fold in horseradish. Place spoonful on each round of toast. Sprinkle with paprika. Makes 4-6 servings.

Take a loaf of unsliced bread, add seasoning as follows, and you have something unusual:

Celery Seed Bread

Tested by the G-E Consumers Institute

¼ tsp. salt
Dash of Cayenne pepper
½ tsp. paprika
½ tsp. celery seed
½ cup butter or margarine softened
1 large loaf unsliced bread

Add salt, Cayenne pepper, paprika and celery seed to butter; blend well. Remove all crusts from bread. Cut down the middle lengthwise a little more than ½ through the loaf. Cut loaf crosswise a little more than ½ through at about 2-inch intervals. Spread butter mixture thinly over the entire surface and in cuts of loaf. Place on baking sheet. Bake in oven 375°F for 20 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

Brussels sprouts, broccoli, spinach or cabbage are fit for a gourmet when mixed with this sauce:

Epicurean Sauce

Tested by the G-E Consumers Institute

3 slices bacon
2 tbsp. bacon fat
2 tbsp. lemon juice

Fry bacon in skillet until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Crumble coarsely. Pour off bacon fat, reserving 2 tablespoons in skiflet. Add lemon juice and bring to boil. Pour over hot, cooked and drained Brussels sprouts, broccoli, spinach or cabbage. Mix well. Top with bacon crumbles. Serve immediately.

A really dressy dessert that takes little premeditation is—

Cherry Cobbler

Tested by the G-E Consumers Institute

Cherry Filling
2 cups canned red pitted cherries, drained (No. 2 can)
1 tbsp. quick-cooking tapioca
⅓ cup sugar
⅛ tsp. salt
¼ cup cherry juice
½ tsp. almond extract

Pastry Topping
¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
3 tbsp. shortening
¼ cup almonds, chopped and toasted to a deep-brown color
6 tbsp. milk

Place cherries in greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch baking dish. Sprinkle tapioca over cherries. Combine sugar, salt, cherry juice and almond extract; pour over cherries. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture looks like fine meal. Add almonds and mix well. Add milk and mix thoroughly with fork. Drop dough by small spoonfuls on cherry mixture and spread slightly. Bake in oven 425°F for 25-30 minutes. Serve hot or cold. Makes 6 servings.

You can make delicious Coconut Cake Waffles in 15 minutes, including cooking time!

Coconut Cake Waffles

Tested by the G-E Consumers Institute

⅓ cup shortening
½ tsp. lemon extract
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1½ cups sifted cake flour
2 tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup milk
2 cups shredded coconut

Preheat waffle iron.

Blend together shortening and lemon extract. Gradually add sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. Add egg; beat until thoroughly blended.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add alternately with milk to egg mixture, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Mix well after each addition. Add coconut; mix. Drop by rounded tablespoons in each section of waffle iron. Bake until waffle stops steaming (about 3-4 minutes).

Cool. Cut in fourths and serve like cake; or serve topped with fruit and whipped cream. Makes 6 waffles.

To Be Crowned By Governor Warren

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Henry of Irvington are entertaining an interesting guest this week, in the person of their niece, Miss Virginia Mello of Taft, a very attractive brunette young lady, who will be crowned this Saturday by Governor Earl Warren in Sacramento as queen of the Portuguese Union, State of California.

Miss Mello, who has spent several summers here visiting with the Henrys, has many friends in this area who are properly thrilled over the announcement that she has won such a distinctive honor.

She was one of the three finalists in the state, and won by a landslide of 2500 votes over her nearest competitor.

She will be crowned at special ceremonies on the opening night of the annual Portuguese Union convention.

Also visiting at the Henry home this week are the young lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Mello, who will, of course, be on hand at their daughter's coronation.

Newark Family Moves

Moving into their brand new home in the Ellsworth Orchard in Niles this week-end will be Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hewitt and three children, formerly of Newark.

Teaching in Los Gatos

Miss Charlotte Brown, teacher last year of the third grade at the Niles school, is now teaching the third grade at Montezuma school in Los Gatos, according to word received by her friends here.

Visit Parents Here

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodward and son Billie of Log Cabin Ranch near LaHonda, California, visited Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woodward in Niles.

Youngster in Hospital

Little Gerald Russell, 4-year-old son of Mrs. Helen Russell, Irvington, was rushed to Highland Hospital Monday evening where his condition was regarded serious. Exact cause of his illness is not known.

Move to Mission

The purchase of the Americo Cordeiro home in Mission San Jose by Robert White of Albany was announced this week by E. B. Hodges, Centerville realtor. The new residents are expected to move into their home this week-end.

Shower for Mrs. John Berchem

Mrs. John Berchem was the guest of honor at a shower given for her by Mmes. W. F. Lamoreux, Lyle Buehler and Tom Robbins at the Lamoreux home Wednesday afternoon, in celebration of the arrival of two months' old James Nicholas Berchem as a new member of the Berchem household.

The young man, not present at the affair but quietly sleeping at home unaware of all the excitement, was, however, the hero of the afternoon, for Mrs. Berchem received a bewildering array of gifts—all for "hizzoner."

Preceding the chicken dinner, and the anniversary cake which was baked in the form of a huge book, Mrs. Brown and the other guests were entertained by young Sharon Smith, who did ballet and tap dancing numbers, and by several girls who sang songs with words composed by Mrs. Florence Brazil, dedicated to Mrs. Brown. Prior to this the guest of honor had been presented with a red-rose corsage by Jacqueline Sarmento.

Before the activities were over, Mrs. Brown was also presented with a "silver tree," on which were hung 45 silver dollars. But this wasn't all—she was also given a handsome fountain pen on which her name was inscribed.

All of the preparations for the party were carried out by her fellow lodge members.

Progress of Kraftile Co. Outlined by 'Chuck' Kraft

C. W. "Chuck" Kraft, president of the Kraftile Company in Niles, in speaking before the members of the Country Club last Tuesday, voiced his utmost confidence in American business and in the American economic system, and forecast a bright future for American business as a whole.

"The American economic system," he stated, "provides what other countries only promise."

His talk dealt chiefly with the Kraftile Company, its business policies, its labor relations, its expansion and growth through the years, and, finally, its relation to the community.

"When the Kraftile Company first started," he said, "people connected it somehow with the Kraft cheese company, but weren't quite sure what the connection was. Someone once asked me," he went on jokingly, "if Kraftile is a cheese that got hard, or is Kraft cheese a tile that got soft?"

The Kraftile Company, he said, was an outgrowth of the old K & L Box Company that was founded by his father and a partner. The two men built the plant in Niles for the purpose of manufacturing boxes for Kraft cheese.

In the manufacturing of boxes there was a great deal of mill waste—sawdust, for example. In an effort to put this waste to a profitable use, someone hit upon the idea of using this by-product as heat for making tile. Thus, the company eventually found that making tile was more profitable than making boxes, so the Kraftile Company came into being.

They eventually got away from using saw-dust and more modern heating equipment was put into the plant in 1929, and the company went into production of the base-wall unit, used throughout the world in the construction of commercial buildings.

In 1940, Kraftile took a significant step by adding on the sale of other products than clay products. A few of the products sold but not manufactured by Kraftile include the famous quonset huts, pre-fabricated steel buildings, acid-proof cements, synthetic roofing, and tile and concrete floor finish.

"By adding on the sale of these other products," said Kraft, "it made it possible for us to reduce the cost of tile."

The Kraftile products are shipped all over the world. The Kraftile Company sent $100,000 worth of materials to the famous Hickman Field in Hawaii, for example.

Operating on the theory that the business man is responsible to the community for the way he operates, the Kraftile Company president went on to explain the importance of a business such as Kraftile to the progress and prosperity of Washington Township.

"We have 90 employees," he asserted, "and annually the company puts on the average of $300,000 back into the community from its yearly earnings in the form of payrolls, supplies purchased in the community, and in services."

"In addition," he continued, "part of the taxes we pay comes back into the community, and the postage we buy here helps to make this a bigger post office."

In discussing labor conditions at his plant, Kraft said that he is paying 2½ times more for labor than 13 years ago. He said that he is always aware of the needs of the working man and thus has established a credit union, group insurance, and a hospitalization plan for his employees. And as for wages—"No wage is too high if it's earned," he stated firmly.

In concluding his speech before an enthusiastic crowd of women, Kraft said that he and his company are always striving to make a better product to sell for less. He cited as an example the famous Kraftile patio tiles that are achieving such great popularity with the home-owners throughout America.

Before he left his audience, the Kraftile executive expressed the hope that his talk was only a forerunner of talks by other local industrialists. "You know," he laughed, "before I consented to make this talk before the members of the Country Club, I extracted the promise of your program chairman that I was only the first in a series. We have lots of industries in the township, you know."

Club members greeted this suggestion with a show of enthusiasm and Mrs. C. N. Myrick closed the meeting by assuring the members that she would certainly try to promote the idea, as she, too, realized that many of our townspeople have a vague understanding—or perhaps no understanding at all—of our local industries and their place in community living.

HUSKIES IN FIRST LEAGUE TILT AT CAMPBELL TODAY

The Washington Huskies, S.C. V.A.L. champions last season, will take to the gridiron this afternoon at Campbell in defense of their crown in their first conference game of the season.

Both Campbell and Washington will enter the fray with the satisfaction of one non-conference victory safely tucked away following last week's skirmishes, Campbell downing Lincoln 19 to 6 and the Huskies edging out San Francisco Poly Tech junior varsity 6 to 0.

SHOW PROMISE

The Huskies, in their opening game, played under the lights here last Friday, showed many cases of early-season raggedness but the performance of the large number of newcomers to the Orange and Black showed promise and ability.

Early in the second quarter a pass from Fullback Jack Bribes to George Silveira, end, was good for 40 yards and set up the Huskie score. Bribes lugged the pigskin from the seven yard line for the tally. Len Salvador booted the extra point but it was called back on an off-side and he failed to convert on his second attempt.

The Huskies threatened in the third quarter but fumbled and lost the ball inside the Poly 20-yard line.

GOOD PUNTER

The Poly eleven drove to the Huskie 12-yard line in the final seconds of the game but the Washington forward wall tightened and took over on downs.

Outstanding performances offensively were turned in by Silveira, who did a fine job of punting, and Rube Guerra, who at his first year of quarterbacking, displayed a fine talent for calling the Huskie plays.

Defensively Don Pine, end, Merle Runolfson, tackle, and Bill Funk, guard, were standouts in breaking up Poly plays before they could get underway.

Carmen Pierce, a senior at Washington Union High School, has been elected student body yell leader for the year. Miss Pierce has named as her assistants, Beverly Neves, Raphael Andrade, Beverly Venturi, Anna Mae Peixotto and Jeanette Nunes.

IRVINGTON MAY NOT ENTER LEAGUE

Frank Mayer, manager of the Irvington Merchants baseball team, pennant winners last season in the Southern Alameda County Baseball League, stated this week that he is not certain that his team will enter the league this season.

A meeting of managers is slated for October 11 at 8 p.m. at the Recreation Center, 1015 E Street, Hayward, and Mayer said that he wants to see what teams are entered before he signs up for another season.

The regular league season is scheduled to open on October 23.

'LIGHTWEIGHTS' DOWN HAYWARD

The Washington "30's", lightweight football squad, encountered but little difficulty in their opening game Friday evening on the home gridiron in downing the Hayward B's 19 to 6.

The young Huskies rang up 12 points in the first quarter, Balcida scoring on a reverse and Orocchi returning a punt 65 yards into the end zone.

The Hayward lads got their lone touchdown in the second quarter on a pass interception.

The Washington lads' final tally came in the third quarter when Berrios ripped through the center of the line and galloped 20 yards to pay dirt.

Standouts for the Washington squad were Balcida, Berios, Rivera, Orocchi and Ferraris on the offensive, Saguindel and Duarte on the defense.

Coach Irv Bird's squad traveled to Campbell yesterday afternoon for their opening S.C.V.A.L. game but the results of the game were not available as we went to press.

GAME CALLED AT 12-12 IN 13TH

A baseball game at the Centerville field Sunday between the Irvington Merchants and the Pittsburg V.F.W. club had prospects of going on through the night until it was called at the end of the 13th inning with the score still tied 12 to 12.

The visiting club, undefeated in more than a year, pulled the game out of the fire in the 9th inning by crowding three runs across the plate to even the score with Manager Frank Mayer's localites 9 to 9.

In the 10th inning both teams scored three more runs and the duel went on for three innings before being called for darkness.

Tony Dutra went the full 13 innings on the mound for the Irvington club.

WARM SPRINGS SCHOOL NEWS

By Harry Avila

Warm Springs football team played Centerville last Thursday, Sept. 29. Centerville won by a score of 36 to 24 in a close and exciting game, which saw both teams trying hard. After last year's zero to zero game, both teams wanted to win the game.

There were several interceptions which led to touchdowns. Centerville made most of its touchdowns on running plays, and Warm Springs on its strategy of passes.

Clyde Marks made 3 touchdowns for Warm Springs while Ronald Schlosser made one.

The Warm Springs team is composed of all rookies except Clyde Marks and Oscar Pickering. The starting lineup of the team was:

James Sanford, lg; Ronald Schlosser, le; Harry Avila, lhb; Bob Fix, c; John Yeakey, fb; Oscar Pickering, rg; Clyde Marks, re; and Timmy Wagner, rhb.

The seventh grade held its election last Tuesday, choosing Jerry Sanford as president; Harvey Pickering, vice-president; and Frances McLelland, secretary-treasurer.

YOUR NEWSPAPER

This is National Newspaper Week, hence a good time to discuss your newspaper.

One way to appraise the part played by newspapers in the life of the people is by attempting to visualize a community without a newspaper.

In some cities from time to time, for one reason or another, newspaper publication has been involuntarily suspended. Readers, deprived even for a few days or a few weeks of their primary source of information, feel a very real sense of loss. They miss not only the news and the comments interpreting the news; they miss the entertainment of special features and their favorite comics; they miss the important merchandising news called advertisements.

America, with a free press, is the most newspaper-minded nation in the world. And America has the ablest and most impartial press in the world. Your newspaper, large or small, is a part of the great bulwark of freedom and justice which will remain impregnable so long as the press is free. Evil in government cannot long flourish under the light—and the free press turns on the light.

A function of your newspaper which is not always recognized, or sometimes taken for granted, is its constant contributions to community growth and progress. There is seldom a worthy civic undertaking that your newspaper fails to help along, devoting without thought of gain or selfish advantage space which could not be purchased at any price.

Your newspaper intercedes for the needy and the unfortunate.

Your newspaper helps employment by promoting new enterprises for the community.

Your newspaper stands for public health and public morality.

Your newspaper hails the newborn and bids farewell to the departing.

Your newspaper is a constantly growing compendium of community history and biography.

Its policy, its motto is "SERVICE."

Criticize it freely when you think it is wrong.

But give it a little pat on the back when you think it is right.

GOVERNMENT PLANNING: EGGS

Fried, scrambled, poached, boiled, deviled. How do you like your eggs?

The government takes its powdered!

Tucked away in a deep, cool cave in Atchison, Kansas, the Wall Street Journal reports, Uncle Sam has 12,000 tons of eggs, all powdered. And other huge caches can be found in Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis and Dallas.

According to official statistics, the government picks up about five out of every 100 eggs being laid in America. It's not that the government has any use for the eggs. It collected 12,500,000 more pounds last year than it could get rid of. But the Agriculture Department is maintaining egg prices at 90 per cent of parity because of the price support law.

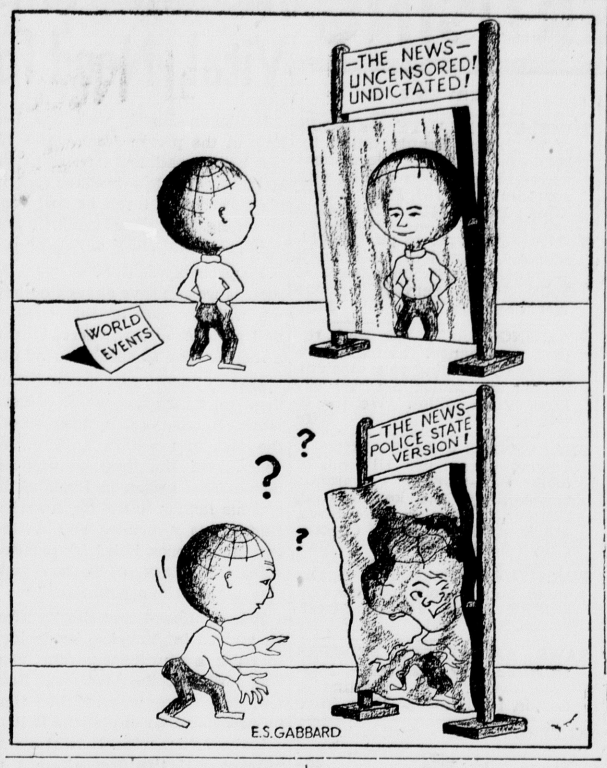
In down-to-earth language, eggs at 90 per cent of parity today means eggs at more than 60 cents a dozen, wholesale—the highest price in more than 25 years.

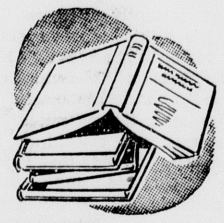
There may be many valid reasons for price supports. But the logic behind government planning that calls for the Department of Agriculture to buy eggs like mad—to have them processed and powdered, only to reside in caves for eternity—is hard to see.

Even Henry Wallace's program back in the '30's which had farmers plowing under every third row and killing little pigs made more sense. For then, at least, the public didn't have to pay the government to process and store food which would never be used.

Off hand it would look like the government's egg department is slightly scrambled.

LET'S KEEP THE MIRROR CLEAR





At the LIBRARY

By ELAINE HOWE

Have to make a speech? Every so often the day comes when one has to stand up and make a speech. The prospect is nightmarish and usually reduces the prospective speaker to nervous indigestion long before the fateful moment arrives. George Jessel, the comedian, comments with more truth than humor, "The human brain is a wonderful thing. It starts working as soon as you're born, and never stops till you stand up to speak in public."

A man with first aid for ailing speechmakers is John Dixon, who has taught and lectured on public speaking for many years. Out of his life's experience he has written "How to Speak Here, There and on the Air." He helps you start off by clearly defining your aim and assembling your material. He emphasizes clarity—making every sentence coherent and simple and above all—concise—the rambling speaker is seldom a hit. He shows how to give variety and add humor to illustrate your point.

Once the speech is on paper, preparing it for delivery comes next. Naturally the person who can speak without reading from manuscript is more interesting to listen to. Mr. Dixon illustrates his method of tabulation of notes which guides your thoughts so that you never lose track of your theme. You speak easily and naturally without the set phrases of memorization.

More and more often now people are called on to speak on the air. A whole section of the book is devoted to radio speaking and script writing. There are practical suggestions for timing your word speed and other tips vital to a medium where the audience is far flung instead of right in front of you.

Another chapter is on voice development. Voice is very important because harsh or halting delivery always detracts from the listener's attention, no matter how interesting the subject matter. Proper resonance, pitch and articulation are of great help in putting your message across.

"He who can explain himself may command what he wants . . . for men do what we desire only when persuaded."

Modern Newspapers Serve Vital Need for Free Country

Benjamin Harris took one last look at the prison from which he was being freed, and hurried home. He was not a law-breaker and in his conscience he felt he had done no wrong. He greeted his wife and children with tears of happiness.

He probably said, "Just wait. As soon as we can save enough money, we will get out of this country and go to America, where, I hear, a man is free to speak his mind."

History does not record that those were the exact words of Benjamin Harris, but it does record the fact that within about three years from the time he was released from prison in England, he and his family sailed for America. Harris was a printer and writer, and he had been jailed for printing what the courts of England said was a "sedicious pamphlet."

It is significant that shortly after he arrived in America, he decided to print a newspaper. The year was 1690, but the town was Boston, and there was at that time no newspaper in any of the British colonies in America. It is also significant that the first attempt to publish a newspaper in America was promptly suppressed. Mr. Harris printed exactly one issue of his little paper, which he called "Publick Occurrences Both Foreign and Domestick." Four days after it was published, the governor and council of Massachusetts ordered that "the same be suppressed and called in; strictly forbidding any person or persons for the future to Set forth anything in Print without License first obtained."

That ruling seemed to set something of a precedent, for the early American newspapers met with considerable opposition at the hands of the politicians and the clergy, both of whom thought that any form of printing was pretty bad business.

PLENTY OF PRECEDENT

These early American politicians had plenty of precedent for their actions in suppressing the press, though. Ever since Gutenberg had invented printing, the press had been in danger of being suppressed or of being regulated out of existence. In fact, Gutenberg and his partner, the reknowned Doctor Faust, were regarded as patrons of the devil. Perhaps it was to overcome some of the superstition of the times that the first proprietors of the press devoted most of their efforts to reproducing the Bible and other religious works.

America is the land of the Free, but freedom got rather a tardy start even in this country, and now, during National Newspaper Week, it is interesting to notice that the growth of liberty and freedom in America is paralleled closely by the growth and spread of newspapers.

After Harris failed to establish a successful newspaper, the Colonies existed for 14 years before another attempt was made. The second attempt was the Boston News Letter, and it was allowed to exist because it was "published by authority" and favored the side of the Tories in the British Colony of Massachusetts. When the patriots under Washington were victorious, and representative government was established in the United States, the newspapers gained a foothold on security.

The constitution did not originally grant Americans the privileges of freedom of speech and of the press. In fact, some of the great leaders of the day, including Alexander Hamilton, were against putting any such guarantee into the constitution. Others, however, including Thomas Jefferson, held out in favor of such a guarantee, and at its first session, the Congress adopted the amendments known as the "Bill of Rights."

MISTAKEN IDEAS

Many mistaken ideas exist as to what is meant by the term "free press." Some people evidently think that a free press means a truthful press, and the press has often been attacked on the grounds that it is inaccurate and at times biased. Others have attacked the press on the grounds that it is not representative—and they say freedom of the press is abused because some of the newspapers take sides on public issues.

Freedom of the press means but one thing: that anyone who wished to do so may set up a press (or a mimeograph, or other printing or duplicating device) and may publish and circulated pamphlets, books, leaflets, or newspapers so long as he does not violate the rights and liberties of others.

Newspapers in America today present all sides of all questions. It is possible to buy, for a very small sum, copies of newspapers which are pro-Communism and papers which are anti-Communism, papers which are pro-this and others which are anti-that. In fact, one can obtain free of charge copies of newspapers which represent widely divergent views on nearly all public issues. The Christian Science Monitor, for example, may be read free in many reading rooms, railway stations, and other public places. And nearly every barber shop, restaurant, or doctor's office provides customers with copies of various kinds of newspapers.

Anyone who has ideas which he wishes to circulate by means of the press can find a newspaper which will print his views, providing he keeps his remarks within reasonable space limits and providing that he writes with a reasonable amount of lucidity and interest.

A VITAL NEED

Truly, the modern newspaper serves a vital need for a free country. Have you ever thought what it would be like to get along with no newspaper at all? Imagine the people of the unenlightened countries who do not even know of the existence of automobiles, of telephones, of ice cream, of chocolate candy bars, of automatic washing machines, of cures for common diseases, or the variety of religious services.

"John Peters to Be Hung for Murder," the headline says. Useful information? Perhaps not, but to curb the right of the newspaper to print such information is to curb the citizen's right to know—and the right to know is one of the most fundamental of human rights. Despots have only one reason for taking away the citizen's right to know, and that is to clothe their own actions with secrecy. People who give up their right to know—their right to buy and read newspapers—are in the greatest danger of being enslaved.

"Freedom goes where the newspaper goes."

WILL SEND AID TO CANCER VICTIMS

In an effort to aid persons in America stricken with cancer, the local court of Catholic Daughters has instigated a project of making cancer pads, to be sent to the Sacred Heart Home in Philadelphia.

The project was taken on following a speech made at the meeting, on September 28, by R. A. Kelly of San Jose, who is in charge of "servants of relief for incurable cancer."

The local court, inspired by the talk, decided to make the cancer pads as its project for the year. Mrs. E. M. Grimmer was named chairman.

At the meeting the Court also decided to serve breakfast to all the children of St. Joseph's parish on the first Sunday of November.

The next meeting of the Court—a business meeting rather than social—will be held next Monday evening. Meetings of the group are held in the Old Mission building adjoining St. Joseph's Church.
